Dear Colleague:

Welcome to the 14th annual meeting of the Association for the Study of Higher Education. This year's annual meeting promises to advance the strong legacy already established by the previous 13 annual meetings. ASHE is among the leading higher education organizations in American that emphasizes both research and practice. The annual conference provides an opportunity for colleagues to share new innovations, to disseminate new information, to establish new collaborations, and to build friendships.

Among the special features of this year's annual meeting are the following:

- Sessions on the higher education curriculum and the future of research and training in the field of higher education.
- Keynote speakers Johnetta Cole, President of Spelman College and Sven Groennings, former Executive Director of the National Institute of Education.
- Reception to welcome first-time attendees and to greet colleagues.
- Sponsored welcome breakfast on Friday morning to meet each other informally.
- Research papers to disseminate recent research findings with only three per session to encourage greater opportunities for interaction and participation.
- 17 symposia on various topics.
- Seven focused dialogues to promote interaction between experts and all participants.
- A wonderful pastoral evening of good food, friends, and culture at the Carter Presidential Library at Emory University.

The sessions presented at this year's annual meeting are of the highest quality, and I think one and all will want to attend every session. Our hotel accommodations, coupled with our low registration fee, make our annual conference a first-class bargain. The conference location in Atlanta, Georgia, also should make our meeting convenient from all parts of America.

The Conference Planning Committee and I would like to invite you and welcome you to Atlanta to our 14th annual meeting, and we look forward to seeing you in Atlanta.

Yours truly,

Michael T. Nettles
Program Chair
